PEOPLES BREAD MARCH AND SPEAK OUT

People are suffering. South Africans are starving because of high bread and food prices. Many food corporations are using the drought to push food prices high when that should not happen. Profit making by food corporations is a big problem. Corporations are also causing the drought by burning coal which heats up our world. This is called the climate crisis. The government is not doing enough to solve the hunger and climate crisis. The people have to unite, now, to end hunger and the climate crisis. We must struggle for a transformed food, energy and water system so it is controlled by the people.

Date: Friday, 13th May 2016

Time: 1pm

Starting Point: Women's Jail, Constitution Hill, cnr of Kotze & de Korte street

Join our national bread march to demand and speak out:

- No to any bread price increases. Instead, we demand #breadpricesmustfall and #foodpricesmustfall like mealie meal and other staples.
- An investigation of the bread price scam and its impact on the poor by the Public Protector and the Human Rights Commission;
- Decent work for food industry workers and an end to outsourcing;
- A Food Sovereignty Act to diversify our food system and ensure the people control the food system and democratically manage water resources;
- South Africa must #BreakFree from coal Now and support socially owned renewable energy. We demand a renewable energy parastatal!
- Zuma and food profiteers must go!
